

Lilian Ivette De Luque Bruges

My name is Lilian Ivette De Luque Bruges; I am from Colombia. I am a social communicator – Journalist. I have worked for more than 11 years in digital inclusion with the government and civil society to raise the quality of life of indigenous people in the northern part of Colombia through information technologies. In addition, I am co-owner of a computer security company in the city of Bogotá.

I have participated as fellow in several meetings of the SSGI, ICANN, LACNIC and the CIO summits of the Colombian government and I am a member of several ISOC chapters.